

We had filed our phone number with the State of Indiana to stop all solicitation calls to our home. It has been nice and quiet since doing that and I would hate to have to go back to being afraid to answer the phone which is what might happen if the FCC implements any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Please consider us, the ones who have to be constantly interrupted by solicitors all day and live in fear of answering our own home phones. The Indiana Telephone privacy act has worked for us, please do not change a good thing. Thanks.
